Suspension of Thesis Writing

A student who has enrolled in thesis writing will be charged a thesis fee / continuous thesis supervision fee each semester. Students may choose to suspend their thesis and continue the studies by completing the following procedures:

1. Students who would like to suspend their thesis in a certain semester must submit an application form (GRS/Form/038) to the Graduate School before the class commencement of that semester.
2. For Master students, the applications should be approved by the thesis supervisor. For PhD students, the applications should be approved by the PhD Advisory Committee.
3. Students can apply for suspension of thesis for one semester at one time.
4. All postgraduate students must be enrolled in at least one course for the semester if their applications for the suspension of thesis are approved.
